Biography

Hi, I am Carole Lacovelli. Currently, I am the Executive Director of Youth Service Hawaii, an organization that supports teachers and students to become involved in service-learning. As a former classroom teacher, many of my classes have had a service-learning activity integrated into the assignment. I have been the Director of a Center for Public Service at Punahou School. This K-12 center is designed to support service activities and also help develop service-learning curriculum with teachers. I am happy to help you in any way I can.
